Pitt Social Work ranked 12th in the nation by U.S. News & World Report among graduate schools of social work. Founded in 1918, it was the first school in the country to offer a program in community organization and one of the first to offer a specialization in child welfare.

The school's three degree programs—Bachelor of Arts in Social Work, Master of Social Work, and Doctor of Philosophy—are taught by one of the most diverse faculties at the University and instill in students a commitment to racial, social, and economic justice. As part of one of the leading public research universities in the world, social work students can take advantage of joint degree programs in several of the University's highly ranked professional schools. The school's vision statement to transform—our world, our future, ourselves—cannot be accomplished without centering anti-racism as an essential and non-negotiable commitment for our school and each member of its students, staff, and faculty. With our Center on Race and Social Problems as an integral part of our school, we build on our history of tackling issues of racism through teaching, research, and service. We have committed ourselves to a set of guiding principles and activities to assure that we are always working to become a more anti-racist, anti-oppressive, inclusive and welcoming school.

EARN YOUR PHARM.D. ON CAMPUS OR ONLINE

Build the bridge to your future in pharmacy with a Pharm.D. from Duquesne University.

If your beliefs align with ours, consider joining us.

It's time for BIGGER GOALS

With nearly 100 years of experience in educating pharmacists and ranked first among Catholic pharmacy schools by the U.S. News and World Report, graduates of the Duquesne University School of Pharmacy Doctor of Pharmacy and Online Doctor of Pharmacy (Pharm.D.) program benefit almost immediately with average starting annual salaries of more than $136,000 in a variety of practice settings.

Discover your passion

Duquesne University student pharmacists graduate with 1,784 experiential education hours, developing a wide range of skills in different practice settings. The Office of Experiential Education works directly with student pharmacists to rank available rotations according to their career goals and interests. Our student pharmacists recently completed rotation at sites such as Allegheny General Health, UPMC, Cleveland Clinic, Eli Lilly & Co., Indian Health Services, Johns Hopkins Hospital, the FDA and the University of Perugia in Italy.

WE BELIEVE IN

- Educating and mentoring student pharmacists who will advance the profession of pharmacy and pharmaceutical research to improve the health outcomes of patients and their communities.
- Developing professionals, through student-centered experiences, who are recognized leaders, innovators and advocates in all areas of pharmacy practice and research.
- Advancing health equity and access to quality healthcare by offering free or low-cost health screenings, healthcare information and more in medically underserved communities in Pittsburgh and beyond.

We want you to succeed, not just fill a seat

Through the Direct Entry option at the Duquesne University School of Pharmacy, first-year students automatically transition from the pre-professional phase (years one and two) to the professional phase (years three, four, five and six) of the six-year program if all criteria are met. Unlike other pharmacy schools, the guaranteed seat in the professional phase eliminates competition for spots among pre-professional students, allowing student pharmacists to focus on their own progression. Furthermore, our students who enroll in the online program have the option to complete the program in 4 years or 6 years.

A stepping stone to professional school or a fulfilling career

The Bachelor of Science in Pharmaceutical Sciences degree is open to first-year students or easily allows for transfer from the Pharm.D. program during the pre-professional phase. The BSPS program helps students take the first step to a meaningful career in the pharmaceutical industry or further education in medicine, dentistry, the pharmaceutical sciences or law.

 DUQUESNE UNIVERSITY
School of Pharmacy

A pharmacy education that's everything you need and more than you imagined

It's our joy to help you dig into what you're good at and discover why it's good for the world. Choose from six different concentrations, including acute or ambulatory care, entrepreneurship, pharmaceutical research and and more. Also join any of our 18 pharmacy student organizations, with areas of focus like addiction and rehabilitation, pediatrics, psychiatry and mental health.

Gain a powerful network and a lifetime of support

We'll connect you with life-changing people, including more than 7,400 living alumni, and opportunities so you can build a professional path with purpose. Additionally, we maintain academic partnerships with eight sites in the Pittsburgh area, including sites in the UPMC Health System, Allegheny Health Network, and specialty pharmacy Alliance Rx Walgreens Pharmacy. Throughout your professional life, we'll always be in your corner. The relationships you make here are supportive, inspiring and never stop giving.

Success isn't just about the grades you get—it's about the person you become

Our faculty are genuine teacher-scholars and all have offices on campus. They have worked to design our innovative curriculum, recognized by our accrediting body, into a cohesive academic journey. Continuous professional development courses, offered every semester starting in the professional phase, help student pharmacists develop and maintain professional skills and build confidence, credibility and expertise in areas including advocacy, career exploration, interview skills, licensure exam preparation, study strategies and more.

Feel like you're a part of something bigger the minute you step on campus

We'll make sure you gain the professional confidence, impressive experience and powerful networks you need to get a running start on a meaningful Pharm.D. career. A Senior Student Success Coach assigned to all student pharmacists in the pre-professional phase of the program can answer all questions related to AP and College in High School credits, class registration and pre-professional pharmacy curriculum. Four pre-professional pharmacy seminar classes prepare students for the professional phase and introduce the vast array of pharmacy career paths available upon graduation.

Discover the impact you want to have on the world

Pharmacists are the most accessible healthcare professional and hold many responsibilities and expansive roles, including educator, medical counselor and health care advocate. Since 2012, the Duquesne University School of Pharmacy has been the only pharmacy school in the country to require participation in a professional development and advocacy course for graduation. We believe student pharmacists must learn to advocate for the profession.

Building a better Pittsburgh since the beginning

We're deeply embedded in local communities, working side-by-side to address systemic challenges in health. Take our Center for Integrative Health—one of our four academic research centers at the School of Pharmacy—and its mission to train the next generation of practitioners who will address health care disparities and improve health equity in the Pittsburgh region and beyond. You'll find that working alongside these community members will resonate through your life and career, and you'll be more determined to create a future everyone can share in.

Pharm.D. Program 0-6 Timeline

Pre-Professional Phase (Years 1 and 2)	Professional Phase (Years 3, 4, 5)	Professional Phase (Year 6)
In the pre-professional phase of the six-year Pharm.D. program, student pharmacists complete all base science and liberal arts classes, including the Bridges curriculum, to build a strong foundation for the professional phase.	In the first three years of the professional phase, student pharmacists complete pharmacy-specific courses and introductory experiential education rotations, gaining the knowledge and skills necessary for graduation.	In the final year of the professional phase and the Pharm.D. program, student pharmacists complete all required and elective experiential education rotations, experiencing many different practice settings and preparing for residency programs, licensure and an exciting career in pharmacy.
